Subject: RE: Fresno: Application of Court's Order to Remaining Stations
Reply-To: Tracey O'Reilly <toreilly@toxictorts.org>

Charles,

As you know, the court's ruling was issued just a short time ago and is fairly complex. Additionally, the process of correlating the rulings with prior dismissals, settlements and agreements in this matter, on a station by station basis, is also fairly complex. Thus, as I am sure you can understand, the process of analyzing the ruling, determining the appropriate response, and providing recommendations pursuant to discussions with our client takes some time. Additionally, our client was unavailable all last week.

We are in the process of conferring with our client and anticipate providing a response as promptly as possible. Since these motions have been pending for nearly six months, and have a significant impact on the litigation, we believe that it is appropriate to allow us a reasonable amount of time to confer with our client.

Sincerely,

Tracey L. O'Reilly
